Summer Reads VISTAs work together to fight the summer slide: the decline of literacy skills in low-income children in grades K-3. At summer schools and community sites, VISTAs provide reading tutoring to children who are performing below grade-level and are most in need of support. VISTAs also lead small groups in creative and educational enrichment activities.

“We were able to build personal relationships that helped to improve not only their reading scores, but also their relationship with reading.”

– Anna, Summer Reads VISTA
